

TESTIMONY CONCLUDED

Last Witness Heard In Trial of Tillman.

ARGUMENTS ON TUESDAY

Seven Hours to Each Side is the Programme Agreed Upon—Judge Says Politics May Affect Character in South Carolina.

(By Associated Press.)

LEXINGTON, S. C., Oct. 10.—The last witness to be heard in the trial of James H. Tillman, charged with the murder of Editor Gonzales, left the stand at 4 o'clock this afternoon, thus concluding the taking of testimony in what promised to be a much longer trial than this will be. On Monday and Tuesday counsel will address the jury, seven hours being given to each for arguments. On Wednesday morning Judge Gary will charge the jury and place the case with it for deliberation and determination. This programme was decided upon by court's counsel and announced by the court just prior to adjournment to-day.

Counsel for the defense proposed that the case be submitted to the jury without argument, who State suggesting that three hours be devoted to each side, but the court proposed a day each, which was accepted by the attorneys on both sides.
The employment of expeditious methods has materially hastened the end of this important case. A vast number of witnesses have been heard and a great volume of testimony has been placed before the jury for its consideration.

For the first time in the history of Richmond the Italian citizens will celebrate the anniversary of the landing of Christopher Columbus in America. Five hundred and eleven years ago to-morrow, history says, this son of Genoa, first sighted land, and in appreciation of this fact the Italians of this city will on to-morrow fittingly celebrate the event at Italian Country Club by a day of festivities, such as dancing, speechmaking, a banquet and games that are peculiar to the native land.

GOVERNOR AND MAYOR.
Governor Montague, Mayor Taylor and others prominent in the city and State have been invited to be present, and will undoubtedly accept the invitation to join in the celebration.
The celebration proper will be held at 10 P. M. on Monday.

REBUTTAL TESTIMONY.
The State offered in evidence certain records of the Street Railway Company to show the hours during which A. J.
Flowers, who testified that he had overheard a conversation had by Mr. Gonzales, had run cars in the summer of 1902, but on inspecting, finding that the records sustained him as to the time, they were asked to be withdrawn.

The defense in rebuttal put on upward of twenty witnesses to testify as to the good character of R. H. Holsonback, one of their witnesses, who testified relative to the shooting.

In fixing the programme so as to send the case to the jury Wednesday morning, Judge Gary said he did not so the jury to have a full day before it for the consideration of its verdict instead of sending it out at night. Court adjourned shortly before 5 P. M. until 9:30 A. M.
Monday.

Whiskey and Beer Habit "ORRINE," A SAFE, SURE AND HARMLESS SPECIFIC.

Physicians pronounce drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Continued indulgence in whiskey, beer, wine, and other stimulating and stuporifics, destroys the digestive organs, ruins the digestion and ruins the health. No "will power" can heal the inflamed stomach membranes.
"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor by acting directly on the affected nerves, restoring the stomach and digestive organs to normal conditions, improving the appetite and restoring the health. No sanitarium treatment necessary. "ORRINE" can be taken at your own home without publicity. Can be given secretly if desired.

CURE GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.
Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:
"I was a common drunkard for twenty years, but today I am free of any desire for liquor. You have found the specific. God bless you!" Mr. A. E. L. Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was born with a love of whiskey and drank it for thirty-two years. It finally brought me to the gutter, homeless and friendless.
I was powerless to resist the craving and would steal and lie to get whiskey. Four boxes of 'ORRINE' cured me of all desire and I now hate the smell of liquor." Price: per box, 6 boxes for $5. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper by Orrine Company, 27 1/2th Street, Washington, D. C. Interesting booklet (sealed) free on request.

checked and the first to fill in the first line of five figures wins the first prize, and so on, until the last row which is

NOT CASE OF SUICIDE

Rev. J. R. Sturgis Tells of Dr.
Williamson's Death.

CAUSED BY A WEAK HEART

Over Stimulating With Alcohol Followed by Overdosing With Sedatives as a Corrective—High Tribute to the Deceased.

Editor of The Times-Dispatch:

Sir,—In justice to the memory of the dead; in consideration of the rights and sorrows of the bereaved; and for the information of many friends of the deceased, his widow and kindred, it is felt that something more should be said concerning the death in West Virginia of Dr. Charles L. Williamson.

Dr. Williamson did not commit suicide.
Nothing was further from his mind and purpose than the taking of his own life.
The statement that he did not was rightly made in your columns by Dr.
Davis, in whose house Dr. Williamson died. But many may remember the telegrams and head lines branding him as a suicide, who may easily forget, or question, the brief denial made by Dr. Davis, in the absence of fuller particulars.
Even the corner's jury, who viewed his remains under most exciting circumstances, and as those of a mere stranger in their community, went no farther than to say in their verdict that he came to his death "by an overdose of chloral hydrate administered by his own hand." Whether the overdose was intentional or accidental the verdict does not presume to say.

ATTITUDE OF JURY.
This attitude and verdict of the jury were natural and in accordance with the facts as understood by them. It seemed apparent to them that death was the immediate result of an overdose of the drug named by them. The jury stated the seemingly facts and left all inferences to others. For this the bereaved are grateful.

And had that jury known what some of us know, the verdict would have been:
"Died of heart failure." To have given a verdict strictly in accordance with the facts, the jury would have probably added: "Heart failure, superinduced by overstimulating with alcohol, followed by overdosing with sedatives as a corrective of the over-stimulation." That verdict would have set forth the actual facts in the case.

He had a weak heart. The engulphed wife who mourns him has twice had her greatest fears excited by the severity of attacks during their short married life.
He knew that it was no mere symptomatic disturbance, but an organic affection that would probably result in sudden death. This he knew him more than anything else. Because of it, he would sometimes say, after a drinking spell, that he never expected to die in bed with loved ones about him, as people usually die. He probably made some such unfortunate remark while in West Virginia; if so, this would help in suggesting and coloring the suicide theory.

HIS SUDDEN DEATH.
Of course, an overdose of chloral hydrate may prove fatal, but it does not always result in death, and it is not days, fighting the thirst with drugs, al-

APETITE FOR DRINK.

Perhaps, a few men can drink moderately and continuously at their work, without allowing the habit to overmaster them, but the danger is, they may transmit a depraved appetite to some descendant that may make life miserable for him and for others. An appetite of a lion's strength and a tiger's fierceness was transmitted to Dr. Williamson.
Physical system was thus diseased at the root. It asserted itself from his very boyhood. Occasional yieldings and lapses made the fight all the harder. During his short life, others could see the battles he lost, but only God and himself knew of the fierce character and great number of battles fought and won. I know that over against the law of transmission there stands the law of grace, and I am not attempting to shield Dr. Wil-lamson against any error or sin. But these bare statements of fact, are made in justice to the memory of one of the most generous and warm hearted young men I have ever known. Apart from his one weakness, he had few flaws in his gentle, unselfish nature.
